

Technologies

Technologies include platforms, such as operating systems, and applications, such as web browsers. Whenever you deploy technologies there is the potential for vulnerabilities.

The Common Platform Enumeration (CPE) provides a central database of possible technologies. By mapping your entities to CPE, RiskVision can automatically determine some of the vulnerabilities that apply to your situation.

Use predefined reports under the Threat Management menu to view:

- All Technologies; and
- Recent Technologies.