Patches

Patches are remedial changes made available by software vendors and security agencies. RiskVision tracks Name, Version, Type, Severity, Publisher, affected entities and other properties for available patches.

Patch information comes from external sources such as BigFix(R) or subscription vulnerability feeds such as iDefense Labs.