

Installation Sequence

In a distributed installation, the sequence in which you will install the components is significant to the successful installation. RiskVision recommends installing the components in the following sequence:

- Tomcat application server
- Apache web server
- Database server (if installing RiskVision Server to use Oracle database, set up the Oracle Server first)
- RiskVision Reports server