

Configure MySQL

By default, MySQL traffic is neither compressed nor encrypted. To improve security, you can compress client/server traffic by using the `--compress` option while invoking the client programs. Another way to improve security is to set up an SSL connection between the RiskVision components that communicate with the MySQL.