Welcome to RiskVision™

RiskVision is made up of several separately-licensed applications, such as the Vendor Risk Manager and Enterprise Risk Manager. These applications share a common user interface, called the console. Depending on your license, the list at the top of the console may not include all of the applications shown here. The Administration module is used to configure all installed applications.

The applications available in RiskVision.

When users log in, they can perform all available security risk and policy compliance management operations in the console, depending on their user permissions. After clicking on a module, users can bookmark specific pages, such as the Incident Manager.
