

Sending Reminders and Escalations to Task-aware Stakeholders

By default, the configured reminder and escalation options are sent only to the task-performing stakeholders and not the stakeholders who receive emails only and cannot transition workflows. However, if you want to copy task-aware stakeholders on all of the reminder and escalation notifications, then you can add the com.agiliance.reminderOrEscaltions.notifyEmailOnlyUsers property to the agiliance.properties file and set it to true. When this property is added, the reminder and escalation notifications are sent out to task-aware stakeholders for all stages and workflow types. For information about task-aware and task-performing stakeholders, see Assigning Stakeholders .
