

Organizational Hierarchy Overview

The names and relationships of divisions, departments, and other organizational units within an enterprise can be modeled in RiskVision, and individual organizational units can be associated with other components of the system.

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled "Organizational Hierarchy" with a "Save" button (green checkmark) and a "Cancel" button (red X). The "General" tab is selected, showing a form with the following fields:

- Information
- General
- Name (text input field)
- Description (text area)

The New Organization Group screen.

Organizational units represent a "tree" of nodes. Each node has a single parent node and may have child nodes.

When adding an organization hierarchy node to a profile or other component, use 'Contains.' Do not use the '==' operator.
